Opening

Opening day at P.C.H.S. came and went as it has for many years, and it brought on the changes it always does. For some it started their first year of high school, for some their last, and for many a few years to go. Change came with all the new people and the ones missed from the year before.

As students gathered in the gym, people looked around at all the new faces and changes still to come. Mr. Sanders and Mr. Hall gave their opening speech with all the new rules and explanation of the difference between rights and privileges.

The first few days passed quickly, and people became more familiar with the surrounding faces and environment. Opening day at P.C.H.S. is very different from opening day at many other schools; it is more like the first day of the first year, with some old friends and some new ones. P.C.H.S. brings together three schools instead of one town.

Sophomores Tara Holliday and Cody Rexroad meet during their lunch break and discuss their summer.

Everyone gathers in the gym for the introduction speech given by Mr. Sanders every year, on the first day.

Senior Heather Rhea walks into the gym to see all the new people and catch up with friends.

Summer Activities

On September 23, 2005, the mighty Pocahontas County Warriors defeated the Richwood Lumberjacks, 55 to 14, on Homecoming night. Another highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Homecoming king and queen. The candidates for king were: Damon Brock, Curtis Dunbrack, and Aaron Tumblin, and the candidates for queen were: Jo Autumn Hill, Kristen Nicholas, and Scarlett Matheny. The crowd was quiet when it was time to find out who the 2005 Homecoming King and Queen were. The king was, ~~Jo Autumn Hill~~ Aaron Tumblin, and the queen was..... Kristen Nicholas.

After the game, students and alumni headed up to the cafeteria where the Homecoming dance was held. Students had a great time dancing and spending time with friends. Homecoming 2005 was considered a success!

Spirit Week

The one week of the entire year where you can dress and look funny and nobody say anything about it came again at P.C.H.S. There were three dressup days. The first day was camouflage, tie-dye, and big hair. Many people participated, and the seniors won. The second day was twins, inside-out, and mismatch. Again, many people participated, and the seniors took it home. The third and final day was maroon and gold and favorite sports team. The spirit-filled seniors won again. Bulletin boards were won by the seniors, door decorations by the sophomores. The archway competition ended in a tie between the seniors and juniors. The overall winner of spirit week was the senior class. Everyone had fun and showed their spirit, giving them one of the best spirit weeks in P.C.H.S. history.

Rivals!!!

What a rivalry. Sisters and brothers at the same high school at the same time. Can the school handle all the action between them?

With 38 sets of siblings at the high school, they all ranged from seniors to freshmen. Do you think that if you had an older brother or sister with you in the same school, that you would talk or even have the same friends? Would you let your sibling ride home with you? Or would you let them eat lunch with you? Think about it, you are the oldest and your sibling is hanging with you all the time, would you be mad or be happy that they were following you? With all the drama between friends and other cliques, it is nice to have someone around that you love and that loves you back. After all the rumors that you hear about how bad it is to have a sibling, the truth felt really is not that bad. If you don't believe, then ask one of these loving pairs.

Success in the Stars Career Exploration

Students at Peachontas County High School have many opportunities to better prepare themselves for future roles, whether in post-secondary schools, the work force, or the military. Among these prospects are: college visits, guidance with Mrs. Beverage, financial aid workshops, and visits from representatives of colleges. Seniors are required to complete a mentorship in which they gain knowledge of the field of study they are pursuing before going on. Besides on-the-job work, seniors also have to put together a portfolio and present their project to a committee of teachers.

A college day was set up at the beginning of school where different college representatives came and shared information, admission applications, and scholarships with students.

P.C.H.S. "Classics"

Every strong entity must have a solid foundation. Pocahontas County High School has been the home to these teachers for many years. The years of experience at P.C.H.S. for these nine teachers ranges from 20 to 35 years. Through their many years they have taught different classes, coached different sports, and sponsored different clubs. These teachers have dedicated many years to helping children achieve academic excellence.

It's hard to believe that the "New High School" has been here for 35 years and even harder to believe that these teachers have remained dedicated for such a long time. The school has changed in many ways throughout the years, and so has the staff. Here's to another year past and many to come!

Clubs

Sixteen clubs met regularly at P.C.H.S. There were clubs that took trips, like FBLA and the French Club, and clubs that worked at school, like Project Christmas and National Honor Society. Clubs met on Mondays, between first and second blocks, for about 20 minutes. Several of the clubs traveled and competed and were happy when they won, like FBLA and VICA who placed in state competitions and got to go to nationals.

A collage of 15 black and white photographs capturing various moments from a school year. The photos are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some overlapping. The subjects are primarily students, shown in different social contexts: group photos, individual portraits, and candid shots of students interacting. The settings appear to be indoor, possibly in a school cafeteria or a common room, with some photos showing students sitting at tables or standing in groups. The overall tone is nostalgic and celebratory, typical of a yearbook or a collection of memories from a specific time and place.

People In Action

Assemblies

College Day helped notify students about different colleges and careers that are available, from engineering to agriculture. During assemblies, students not only got time off from book work but they also received valuable information for the future.

The assemblies that took place this year were amazing. We viewed excellent talent during the performances of the "Fractured Fairy Tales," and Linda Alderman shared a tragic story about her son being in a horrific car accident while riding with a drunk driver. The students enjoyed the rare talents of "Almost Recess" as they demonstrated musical sounds without using instruments. Without these educational assemblies, life for students at P.C.H.S. would be nothing more than a routine day at school.

Heather Rhea talks to a college representative about the course available at his college.

"Almost Recess" uses no instruments as they pick up the beat while showing off their tremendous talents.

The Extras Talents and Hobbies

Every student spends an entire day at school, and some spend a few more hours after school participating in extracurricular activities, not to mention the one or two hours of homework at night.

So what do these students do during the few hours of spare time that they have? A lot of students have after-school and weekend jobs. A few students participate in rodeos and enjoy horseback riding competitions. Other students and teachers ride and take care of horses in their spare time. A few P.C.H.S. students are interested in riding four wheelers and dirt bikes.

Eight young men from P.C.H.S. have musical talent, and they are not afraid to show it. Their band, "3:17 Static," has performed in various places throughout Pecos County.

Some students enjoy traveling, whether it is with a church group to help people in need or to compete in beauty pageants. P.C.H.S. has a very diverse group of talented students.

During spring break, Katie Workman, Haley Cutlip, Clay Baxter, and Emuly Egan (not pictured) traveled with their church group to Alabama to help with the Hurricane Katrina clean-up.

In her spare time, senior Natasha Halterman expresses herself through her artwork.

Teachers Kathy Kolonay and Courtney Curran spend free time riding horses.

Taking care of horses is Tiffany Hudson's favorite hobby.

Jarrett McLaughlin gets ready to throw his rope around a calf at a competition in Pennsylvania.

Jun or Dylan Kolonay enjoys his free time skateboarding.

Ms. Wiley enjoys some of her free time riding motorcycles.

Ross Morgan and Colin Butler show off their talented dirt bike riding skills.

Kelsey Beverage participates in goat roping competitions.

Britney Barlow competes in pageants around West Virginia

Lunchtime and After-School Activities

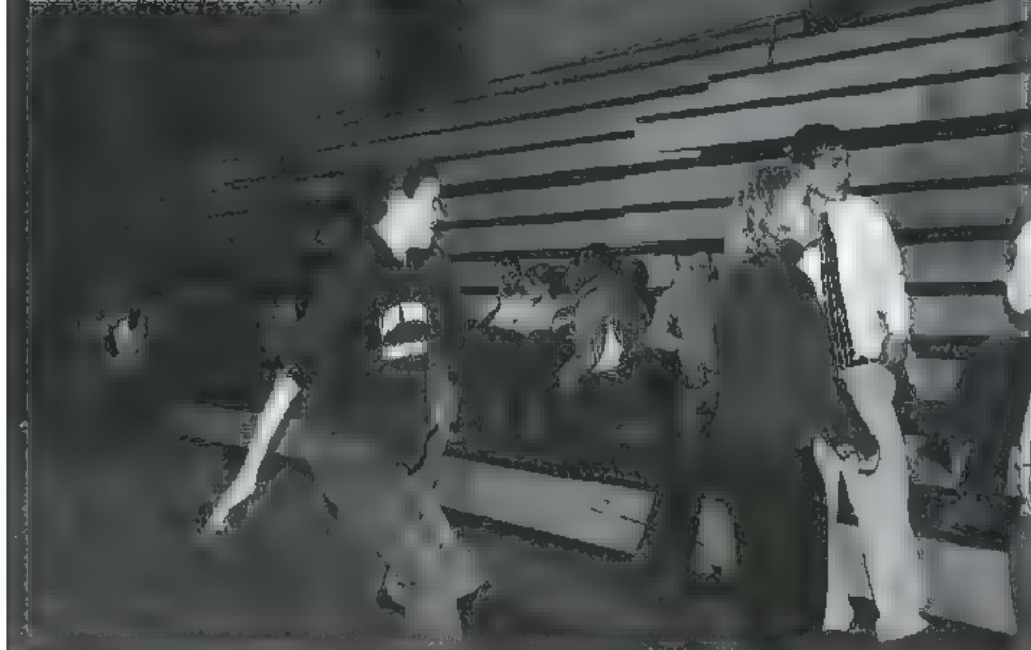

A big part of everybody's life is school. Eight hours a day can really wear you out, but the students here at P.C.H.S. always find time for fun. At lunchtime, students hang out with friends and take a break till class starts again. At lunch, people also go to the Warrior Store for cool treats and emergency school supplies.

In After-School, students could make up work that they could not make up in class. Some teachers stayed after school on certain days to be there to help. School work was not the only reason students could stay after. They also stayed after to be involved in PYTHON Computers, Pocahontas Woods, High Rocks, Weight Training, Counseling, and Radio Club. The students who signed up for after-school had a snack at the end of school so they didn't get hungry during their activities. Coordinator Ira Brown tried to make sure there was "something for everyone."

Randy Thompson eats a snack and relaxes before starting on make-up work.

A Face in the Crowd

Prom

Prom 2006 was held at the Opera House in Marlinton on May 13, 2006. The theme of the prom was "A Night at the Opera," and the colors were black, red, gold, and chrome.

This year P.C.H.S. prom made history by having a three-way tie for prom king. Tied were Aaron Tumblin, Curtis Dunbrack, and Mark Burdette. Prom Queen Natasha Halterman chose her king by picking a name from a piece of paper which was Aaron Tumblin. Prom Prince and Princess were Justin Dilley and Priscilla Young. The students attending prom danced the night away.

The after-prom, which was held in the P.C.H.S. gymnasium, overall was fun for approximately 40 people. The entertainment consisted of the 3:17 Static Band, a comedian, a caricature artist, movies, and many games. Many prizes were given away, ranging from money to a TV, a stereo, an Mp3 player, a portable DVD player, fishing poles, and gift certificates.

Giving Credit Trips/Competitions

Throughout the school year many trips and competitions take place for P.C.H.S. students. Students travel with clubs, sports, and classes. Competitions range from Math Field Day, and the Social Studies Fair to state competition for clubs, classes, and sports. When students hear the words "trip" or "competition," many rush to see what it is and who is eligible to go.

Twenty-one students traveled with FBLA to Charleston to the State Leadership Competition. FFA traveled to Morgantown to compete in contests, and also traveled to Louisville, Kentucky, for the National Competition. There were also Gear-Up trips to New River Community and Technical College and to Berea College in Kentucky. French students traveled to France over Spring Break. For the 2007 Spring Break the Spanish Club will be going to Spain, so they continue fundraising.

Students look forward every year to trips and competitions. They enjoy the opportunity to gain new experiences and the great memories that will last a lifetime. The chance to compete all over the state and nation and get to go to another country are chances that a lot of students in many places don't get, and students at P.C.H.S. are grateful for these opportunities.

are good!"

Each year at P.C.H.S. new students fill the hallways. The first few days are mostly spent getting to know the people you will spend the year with and getting adjusted.

Freshmen are getting used to their schedules and finding their place among the upperclassmen.

Sophomores are excited that they are not the "new kids" anymore. They are busy fund-raising and preparing for the Plan Test.

Juniors are hard at work fund-raising and making plans for prom, happy to know they will be the Seniors next year.

Seniors are busy with clubs and college applications and making sure they are set for Graduation.

The extracurricular students are busy having fun doing what they love.
Club taking trips and raising money.
Some competitions with other schools.

The middle of the year brings new classes and sometimes new faces.
Even seniors ask a friend who someone is frequently.

By the end of the school year,
everyone has new friends, old friends,
and has conquered another year at P.C.

nice!"

SENIORS

On August 26, 2005, opening day came again as it had for the past three years for the seniors. The doors of P.C.H.S. opened once again, but this time 102 came in as SENIORS. They now had their chance to shine. They attended their last first day of school meeting and their last first day of high school.

The first few weeks of school flew by with pictures, electing class officers, and getting fundraisers on the roll. Most seniors spent quite a bit of time in the Guidance Office, making sure they had all the classes and requirements they needed for Graduation.

Days turned into weeks and weeks turned into months, then it was time for college applications and all the financial aid information. Some still had no clue what they wanted to do after Graduation in May. The time had passed by so quickly, it seemed like only yesterday they were taking their first bus ride, and soon they would be taking their last.

Class President Felicia Pennington, Vice President Valerie Pitt, Secretary Brandy Sharp and Treasurer Dustin Lambert were elected by their classmates.

JUNIORS

The class of 2007 had a busy year. Most of the students were stressed because of hard classes, taking the ACT and getting ready to college. However, the juniors did it well and had a great year.

To spread the activities, the junior class Amy Coleman as class president, Justin Dilley for Vice President, Michelle Holstine was chosen as Secretary and Aaron Pugh was elected Treasurer. The four class officers asked to say but not without the help of in-class sponsors: Mrs. G. VanReenan, Mr. Riley, Mr. Richmond, Mr. Ziegler, Mr. Sheets, Mrs. Chappell and Mrs. Martin. The class was in charge of planning the 2006 Homecoming theme, picking the dress-up days, and decorating.

Homecoming was a success, but prom proved to be a difficult responsibility.

FACES OF...

Three years gone, one more to go
 Went by fast, but seemed so slow
 Looking back when high school was new
 And interesting and exciting too
 Sitting here recalling 2003's fall
 Wandering around, lost in the halls
 New faces, new places, new teachers, new friends
 A year of beginnings, a year with some ends
 The next year was simple, we knew the ropes
 We came back with plans, we came back with hope
 But the pepperoni rolls decreased in size
 And the grab-n-go vanished before our eyes
 No countdowns, but instead the filling of bubbles
 Sophomore testing year- full of stress and troubles
 But now we're Juniors, almost gone
 Looking at colleges, moving on
 To work or college or whatever
 Uncertain time, stormy weather
 But we'll manage, fulfill our quest
 Full of Warrior Pride, we are the best
 The future of West Virginia, "Almost Heaven"
 We are the class of 2007

The Class of 2008 was the first year of high school under their belt. With one year past, they had stepped up on the social scale and had a better understanding of what life is about. The beginning of the year was a bit of a struggle, but they finished third during the year.

Sophomores also participated in many activities during the year. They were involved in the school's fundraising efforts, which included a variety of events. The funds raised from the fundraising will help them with their senior year expenses, which include travel, housing, and food.

The class officers were: President Kurt Mothes, Vice President Katherine Beverage, Secretary Whitney Wayne, and Treasurer Erica Arbogast.

Sponsoring the Sophomore class were: Mrs. K. Moore, Mrs. M. Moore, Mrs. C. Moore, Mrs. K. Moore, Mrs. G. Moore, and Mrs. B. Moore.

MY MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT WAS WHEN...

Tasha Alderman- I fell down the steps and thought it was because of a bad luck penny.

Amy Auldridge- I was at a friend's house and fell down the steps in the dark and sprained my ankle.

Leroy Boyce- I was at the nursing home with my mom and I wanted a cup of coffee. I got one and it was in a cup that said SEXY SENIOR CITIZEN.

Harry Cain- I was playing basketball at Green Bank and the crotch of my pants ripped.

Patricia Cochran- I had two holes in my pants and I ripped another one and it made one large hole.

Haley Cutlip- I was roasting marshmallows and one caught fire. I flung it and it burnt my face.

Lucas Faulkner- I would have to say when I threw three interceptions at Pendleton County.

Jessie Feldes- When I was getting on the bus, I wasn't paying attention and I ran into the side of it.

Ashley Fischer- I was in Building class listening to Mr. Gibson. I looked out the window and got distracted by a spider. Then the spider was chasing a fly. I was quietly encouraging the spider and all the sudden the spider got the fly and I yelled out, "OH, HE GOT HIM!"

Hannah Giddings- When I took a trip to Amsterdam and walked into a lightpost. It was only embarrassing because I just said, "I have never ran into a post." And there was this one time at band camp. . .!

Katie Grimes- When I ran over a bush backing out of our driveway.

Rachie Hedrick- When I was ten, I fell down a hill and a barbed-wire fence cut my throat.

Ellen Honaker- When I fell off the merry-go-round and it hurt really bad.

Casey Horton- When I ran into a snow bank and ripped the transmission out of our car.

Amber Johnson- When I fell flat on my face at church in front of everyone.

Kachine Jones- I am scared of snakes, and my family and a friend went camping. My dad had gone ahead of us and had laid down a rubber snake. I came upon it and I started crying and hitting it with a stick, and my dad videotaped it.

Ron Kelley- I was going off the bleachers and fell.

Ethan Lash- I went on a trip, and a few girls were waving at someone behind me; I thought they were waving at me and I waved back. There was a lot of blushing.

Amy Mitchell- When my dad put Mac-n-Cheese on my face and made my puppy eat it off in front of people

April Pratt- I was going up the bleachers and fell.

Delta Queen- I was talking to a friend telling her who I really liked, and it turned out that he was behind me.

Cecil Rappold- When I tried to pop the top off a milk jug and couldn't do it, I jumped on it and fell. My butt hit the jug and sent the lid flying.

Stephen Rebinski- When I forgot my band shirt.

Coty Rexrode- When I talk to people I don't know

Annie Richardson- When I got lost in the school my sophomore year

Shannon Rudd- I called a guy "Steve" for three hours and I argued with everyone and swore his name was Steve, but that wasn't his name.

Adam Sewell- I was swimming at Silver Creek and there were a whole bunch of girls around when my shorts came off.

Amy Sharp- When I ran into a goal post with my head at soccer camp.

Janessa Sharp- When I got on the school bus without shoes. I didn't wear shoes all day.

Katherine Simmons- I chased my sister with a water hose and I ran out of hose and it jerked me back 2 feet.

Kendra Taylor- Last year in gym I sat in gum. I didn't know until Kachine looked and started laughing. I ran off into the girls' locker room. I was so embarrassed.

FRESHMEN

As the class of 2009 came to PC.H.S., they had many things to look forward to. They had a new way to meet new teachers and many new students. Learning from seven or eight classes a day to four long classes was just what could cause some concern. Everything that they were used to had changed, come from knowing just about everyone in their school to knowing maybe 10 people.

Freshmen orientation was the first thing that hit the new students and teachers and were exposed to school rules. Coming on the first day where they would see to experience all students in the hallway at once was their biggest concern. But then all survived the freshman they headed in their looking at fundraisers, to start saving up for their junior prom. To something and many other items to help them with this year they chose Bridget Boothe as President, Kendall Beverage as Vice President, Casey Withers as Treasurer and Erica Beverage as Secretary.

President Bridget Boothe, Vice President Kendall Beverage, Treasurer Casey Withers, and Secretary Erica Beverage were elected by their classmates.

"Academics are overrated."

Golden Performances

"Who would have thought-- I'm actually working instead of talking!"
-- Leslie Crookshanks

The academic program is the main reason that P.C.H.S. and other schools exist. Teachers strive to help students learn what they need to learn to give them the power to accomplish anything they want. With the academic knowledge that is provided by the classes that students take, they have what it takes to get a college degree and get any job with any pay they choose.

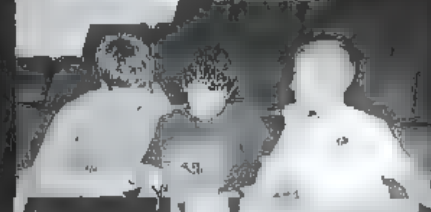

At P.C.H.S., students are given many choices when it comes to what classes they take, whether they're taking core classes and completing them as soon as possible or taking several electives in their free time. P.C.H.S. has not only a wide variety of high school classes, but it also works with New iv Valley Community and Technical toll so that students can get a head cart on their college courses.

When selecting classes, students not choose carefully. They have to make sure that they pick the classes that o along with their major. Students have to take four core classes for their major o that they can graduate. Juniors usually et to take all the classes they want since ne have first choice of what to ke. Upcoming freshmen usually have ttle to choose from because they are ne to pick their classes and there re are very many openings left in ifferent classes. In the end, teachers do s as they can to make sure that ur students graduate with the knowledge ey should.

Social Studies

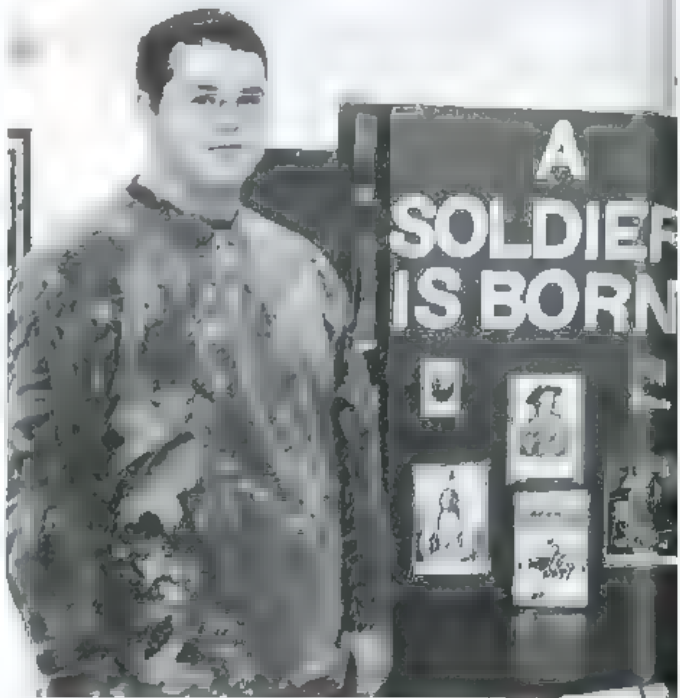

The 2005-2006 school year was very challenging for students in all levels of social studies. The students were led by teachers Mrs. Vance, Mr. Lindsey, and Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Lindsey required all of his students to create and present a social studies project. All students participated at the school level and were judged by teachers. The county level proved to be more difficult, with state level being even more challenging. Mrs. Vance's classes also had a very busy year. It took hard work and dedication to make good grades in all of her classes. Mr. Taylor's classes weren't far behind, either. The students had to work hard and adjust to Mr. Taylor's unique and effective teaching style.

Senior Justin Madron concentrates on taking notes in Mr. Lindsey's 1st term, 4th block American History II class.

Junior Roe Roush and senior John Feldes wait their turn to present their social studies project to the judges.

Freshman Ben Tallman studies his notes before a test in Mr. Taylor's American History class.

Freddie Tawney completes an assignment in American History II

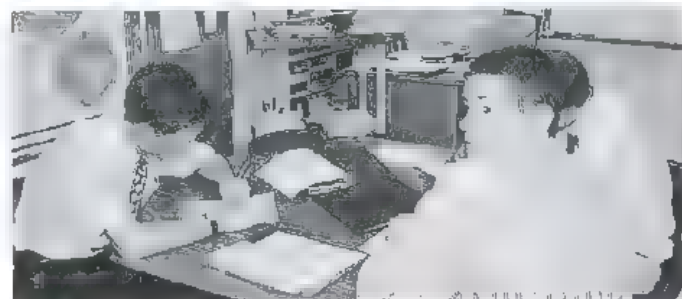

Kelly Starr flips through her history book searching for answers.

Brandon Stone uses a library book to research a topic for second term, second block American History II.

Freshman Chelsey Gum starts an assignment in Mrs. Vance's Advanced American History class

Juniors Jacob Sheets, Ben Rittenhouse, and Chris Caplinger work together on an ESSH project

Sophomores Stevie Holland, Cyrus Bennett, Jaenna Burns, and Jarrett McLaughlin watch a biography in Mr. Taylor's World History class.

Freshmen Shayla Carpenter, Logan Dale, Jacob Cutlip, Brandon Oscar, and Caleb Pugh are trying to pay attention in Mr. Taylor's first term, third block class

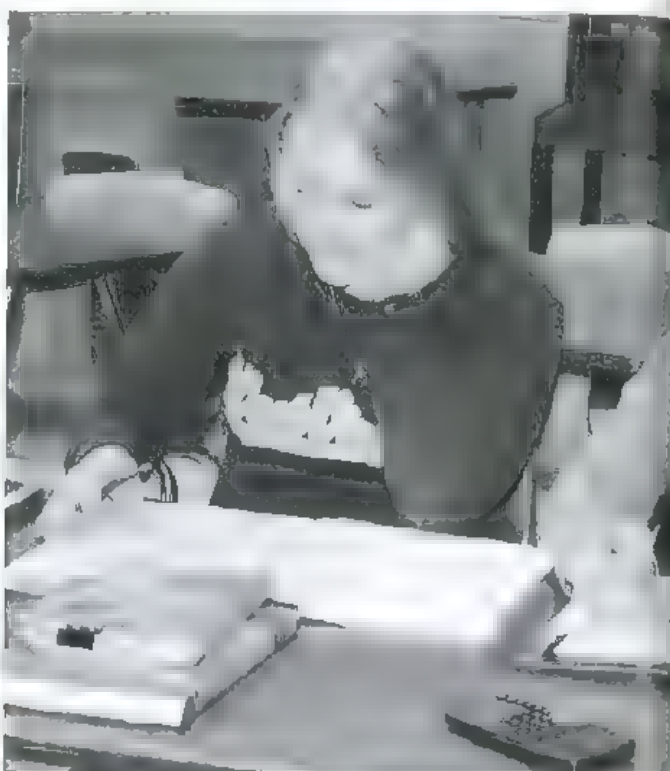

Ms. Hrabina pays attention to Mrs. Vance's instructions to the class. She is student-teaching with Mrs. Vance to earn her teaching certificate in secondary history.

Mathematics

Mrs. McGee works hard on lesson plans and paperwork during her 3rd block planning.

and was the gateway to all higher math courses. These classes were taught by Mrs. Rhea.

Mrs. McGee taught Algebra 2, in which students studied the quadratic formula, complex numbers, systems of linear equations, and graphing. Precalculus included topics on linear equations and logarithmic functions. Trigonometry consisted of trigonometric equations and inverse trig functions.

Staci Crowe and Katie Grimes are patiently waiting for their homework instructions.

Mr. DiPasquale's class take a well-deserved break from solving Geometry problems.

Mr. DiPasquale is teaching his third block class about Geometry.

Mathematics courses seem to be some of the most complicated subjects at P.C.H.S. for most students. Students are required to complete three math credits, except for the new freshmen who have to have four if they plan to go to college. This year we had a new Geometry and Conceptual Math teacher, Mr. DiPasquale. In Geometry, students studied applications problems and other Geometry concepts. Conceptual Math was where Algebra and Geometry were extended further. Algebra/Geometry Prep reviewed middle school math and introduced Algebra and Geometry. Applied Math I was the first part of Algebra I, and Applied Math II was the second part of Algebra I. Algebra I focused on equations and variables

Mrs. McGee's Trig class pay close attention to her directions.

Mr. DiPasqua.e's Geometry class work in teams on their classwork

Justin Sisler and Chelsea Ryder are writing all the notes so that they can be prepared for their test.

Janney Lockman works very hard on her Algebra II test

Madeline Jerome collects homework papers that need to be turned in at the beginning of class, as some students finish their Algebra I assignment.

Science

Kevin McCall and Shaun McCarty work together to get their assignments done.

Mrs. Burns helps her Science 9 students with their worksheets.

Students have to memorize all the muscles on the frog before they dissect it, and they have to have strong stomachs when it comes to dissecting animals, especially cats. Science will help students for several years to come, especially those who choose a science-oriented career.

Jimmy Goldizen reviews his lab questions.

Dr. Rose makes sure that all his students know what they're doing in his class.

Every student in West Virginia is required to take at least three Science classes. Students enjoy the Science classes because they are not all book work. P.C.H.S. Science classes consist of mostly hands-on activities. Students have the opportunity to get help whenever they need it by going to their teachers during the day or staying for after-school tutoring on Monday through Thursday.

Science is fun, but it also requires a lot of work.

Students in Science work hard to get all their assignments done on time.

Tasha Vandevender makes sure their lab station is clean when finished.

Mrs. White explains to the students what they need to do in class.

Heidi Beverage and Renae Burks think hard in their Anatomy class.

Billy Kelley spends his afternoon doing labs in Mrs. Burns' Science class

Language Arts/Drama

Madeline Jerome, Charles Wilfong, and Mikey Callison perform a play for Ms. Boothe's Language Arts class.

College English and ESSH are offered at P.C.H.S. All of these classes go hand in hand with the way we speak and write.

Finally, with the addition of the fine arts building, drama class has been improved and the performances are very well presented.

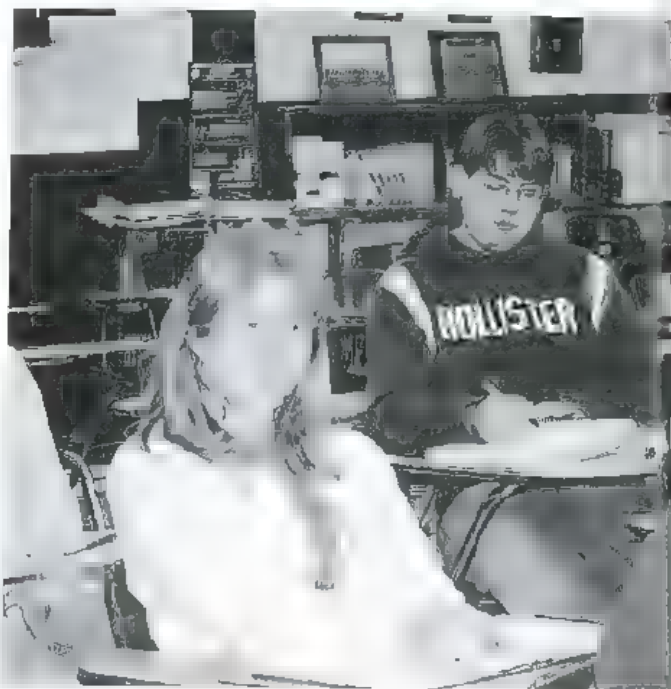

Poems, short stories, and novels come to mind when talking about the English department. Throughout their high school careers, students study a variety of literature while in the classroom.

Freshmen begin with a diverse overview of many different writers, while the sophomores take an in-depth look at world literature. The juniors focus on American writings, and the seniors learn about British authors and stories.

Along with these classes,

Pam Jordan works hard to complete her work in A.P. English.

Junior Sarah Wilkins is busy reading and writing while taking her third Language Arts class in Mr. Sheets' room.

London Stone thoroughly reads his book for Language Arts.

Luke Wa.kup dilligently works on perfecting his college essay.

Chelsea Ryder concentrates on finishing a worksheet for English class.

Ben Egan and Katie Grimes entertain the school with their act as part of a play for drama class.

Rurik Tywoniw deliberates on what to include on an assignment for College English.

Adventure in Foreign Language & Art

Here at Pocahontas County High School, French and Spanish are offered as Foreign Language classes. Along with studying and making good grades, these students work very hard all year long to produce enough money to take their annual trips. The foreign language festival is also a part of the many activities that contribute to the promotion of differing cultures.

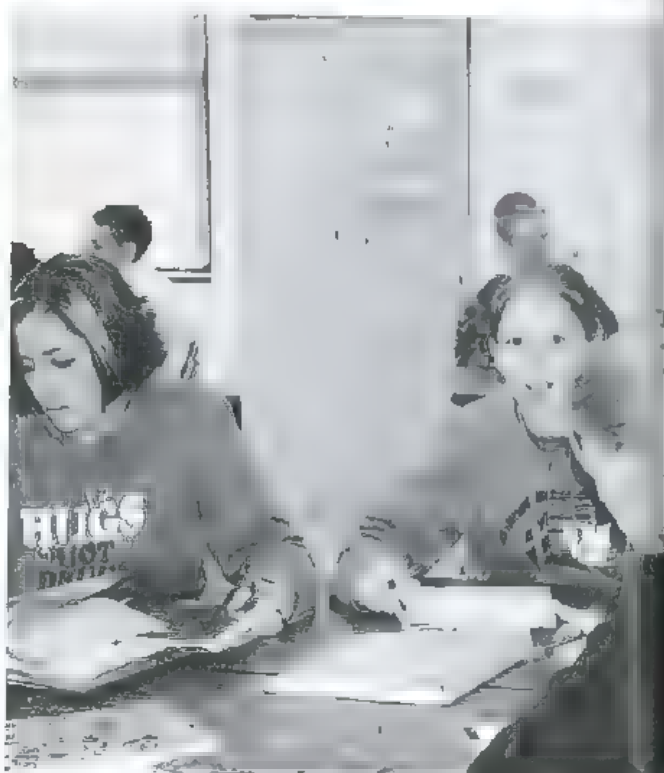

Our foreign language lessons make it possible for students to hear and see the world from a different view.

Art inspires some students and motivates them to pursue a career in this field. Among the art classes offered are Ceramics, Art I, II, III, IV, V, and a number of independent studies. Each student is required to take a fine arts credit, and any of the art classes fulfills this requirement.

J.J. Bennett and Lucas Faulkner talk while finishing a drawing.

Dr. McNeel happily relates the key points of today's French lesson.

Minty Vandevender concentrates on creating the color wheel for an assignment in Mrs. Nelson's Art I class.

Consumer Sciences & Driver Education

Consumer Sciences include all classes involving careers in human services. These classes better prepare students to provide a service to their community, family, friends, and the world in which we live. Among these classes are: Culinary Arts, Lodging, Parenting, Human Development, and Travel West Virginia. There is also a Food Science class available as an independent study for those students whose major requires it.

Shanda Carpenter reviews her reading for Lodging class

David Moore participates in a Driver Education activity in which tests his peripheral vision using a special instrument.

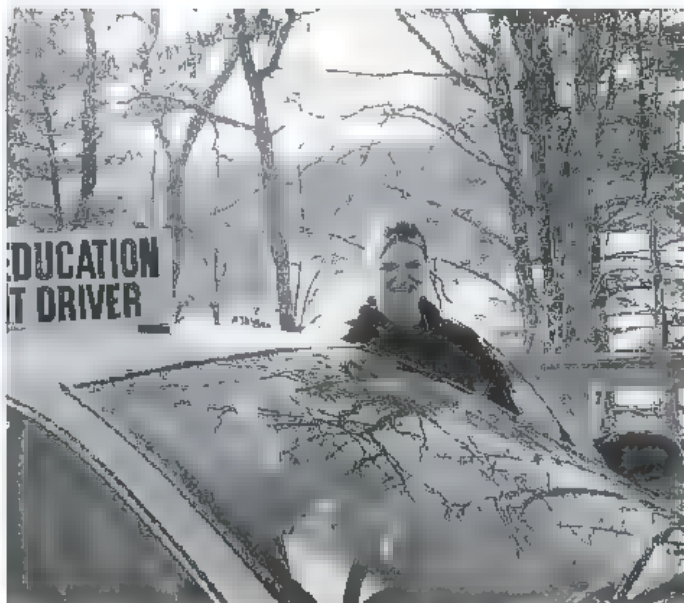

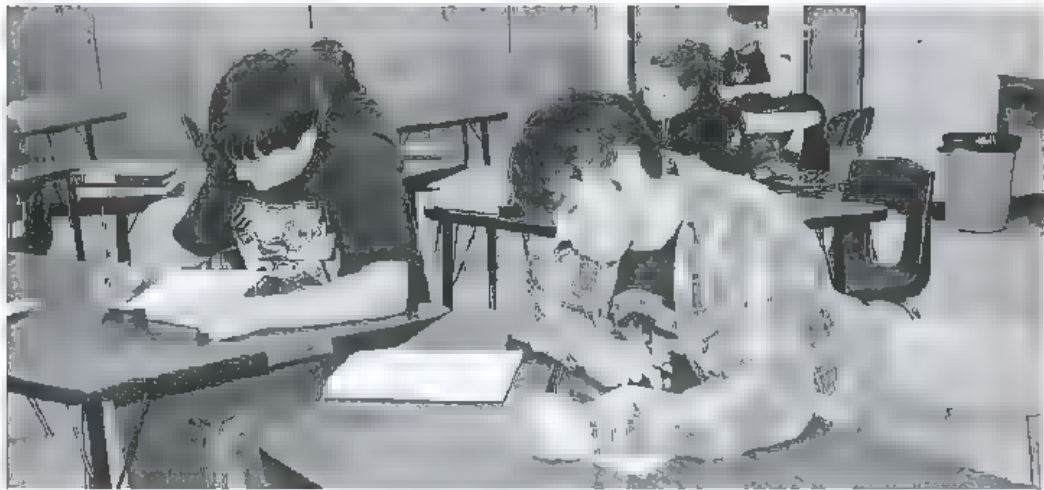

Driver Education is a course taken to improve the students' driving techniques. Along with classwork, students are required to have a minimal number of hours driving the Driver Ed. car David Weadon studies hard to become a good driver.

Latasha Schmidt turns off the timer after a batch of hot brownies come out of the oven

Mrs. VanReenen gladly reads the announcements to inform her students of al. upcoming events.

Electricity and Electronics

Senior Michael Ferrell is learning how to reroute a computer in Mr. Beverage's second block Cisco class.

He teaches his advanced students new skills to use along with the old so they too can do more difficult tasks. Beginning students learn basic skills and terms in these classes.

Mr. Beverage also teaches Cisco. Cisco teaches students how to network computers. This class is lots of fun, but it takes a lot of hard work.

Two of the vocational classes offered at P.C.H.S. that stress hands-on experience are Electricity and Electronics.

The Electricity classes are taught by Mr. Ziegler, with over 26 years of experience. Mr. Ziegler has beginning students and advanced students. Advanced students use the previous skills they learned, along with some new, to complete some more difficult tasks. Beginning students learn basic skills and also theory. Students learn to use special equipment in all Electricity classes.

The Electronics classes are taught by Mr. Beverage.

Mr. Ziegler pays close attention to his students.

Senior Destiny Vela is participating in an Electricity lab.

Joe Rappold gives a thumbs-up to a good, hard day's work in Mr. Beverage's Cisco class.

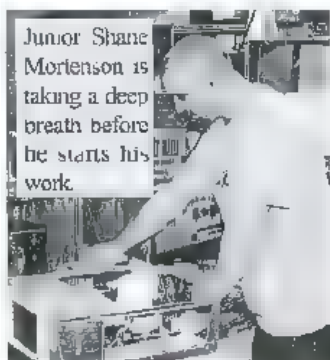

Senior Adam Withers is participating in an in-class assignment on computer.

Sophomore David Mitchell is learning a lot in Mr. Ziegler's Electricity class

Junior Anne Stemple checks her connection on the circuit board to make sure everything is just right.

Mr. Beverage is concentrating to keep grades organized.

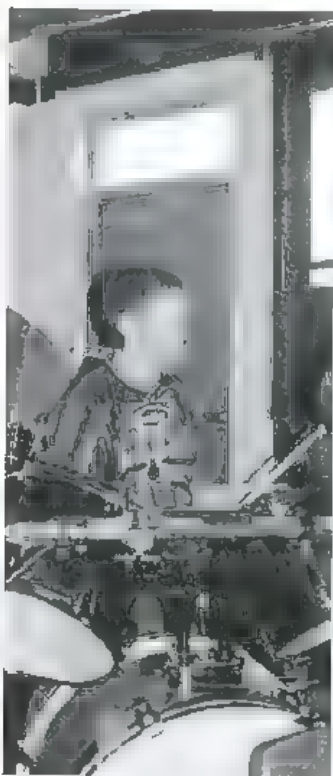

Senior Jonathon Wilson is working hard in Mr. Ziegler's Electricity class.

Junior Derek Jones is really excited to be in Electricity class.

Music and Band

Senior Daniel Lacasse enjoys the time that he has to practice his drum routine.

The saxophone section of Jazz Band prepares for the upcoming Christmas concert

With one year under his belt, Mr. Richmond is very confident in all of his students. He and the rest of the marching band jumped right into the competitions and football games with their new field show, "West Side Story." The choir was also hard at work preparing for the annual Christmas concert, where they performed five classic songs. The concert and jazz bands also performed. Mr. Richmond was also busy teaching music appreciation and instrumental music. The band traveled to

"Good enough is never enough."
Greg Richmond

Elkins for ratings, where they received well-earned scores. They ended the musical year with the spring concert. At the concert, the band and jazz band performed different songs chosen personally by Mr. Richmond.

Senior Dustin Lambert practices a song for the Christmas Concert in choir.

Caitlin Sharp seems happy to be in music appreciation class first block second term.

Senior David Weadon is a very talented person; he can play the guitar and piano at the same time.

Caitlin Sharp, Sarah Watkins, Ashley Holland, Valerie Britt, Emily Beall

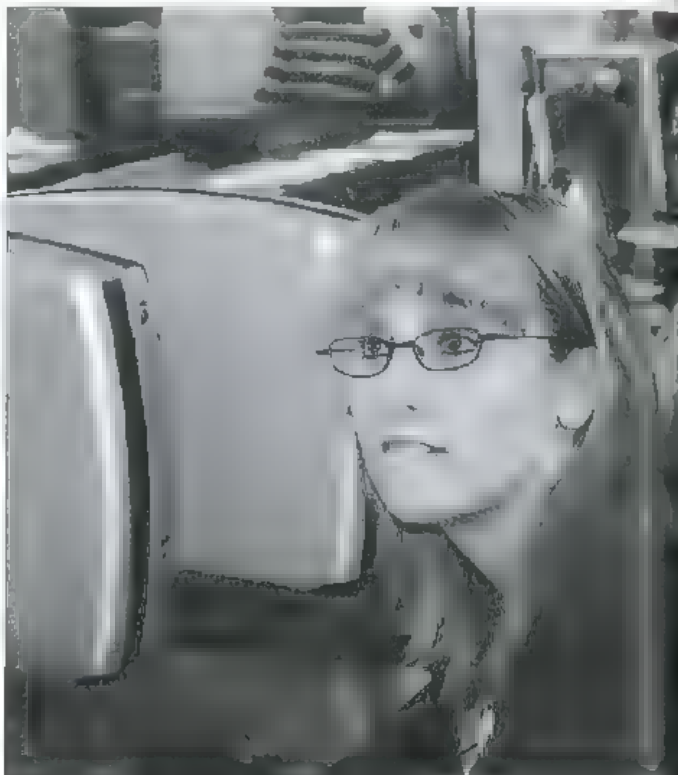

The Marching Band gives their all at the Marshall competition. The band also participated in a competition held in Lewisburg at Greenbrier East High School.

Business & Yearbook

Brandy Sharp thanks hard as she works on her yearbook layouts.

The 2005-2006 Business classes consisted of Computer Applications 1 and 2, Keyboarding, Accounting, Intro. to Business, and Desktop Publishing. The Business classes were all taught by Mrs. Kesterson. She keeps her students busy with book work but also helps them through many hands-on projects.

The yearbook is never designed the same way twice. It is the job of the yearbook staff to make sure that the yearbook will please as many people as possible. The yearbook staff was made up of 11 students and Mrs. Rhea, who made sure that every page was done on time and in the right way.

Priscilla Young completes all her work in her Intro. to Business class.

Leslie Crookshanks, Caitlyn Rood, and Dessie Defibaugh entertain themselves while tagging sophomore pictures.

Justin Reed doublechecks his Keyboarding work to make sure it is right

Mrs. Rhea checks over ad thank you letters before they are mailed.

Jennifer Cutlip and Kelsey Smith work together on their Intro. to Business assignments.

Katie Gum and Heidi Beverage learn how to design a layout using magazine clippings.

Mrs. Kesterson makes sure everyone in her Accounting class understands the lesson.

Art & Health

Every high school student must take one Physical Education class in order to graduate. Many students choose to go ahead and take the class during their freshman year. During P.E., students cover sports such as basketball, hockey, baseball, softball, soccer and everyone's favorite, physical fitness testing. P.E. is taught by Mr. Barb.

Health is also a required class. In this class, students discuss important issues dealing with health, Kristen Nicholas shows off a few dance moves of her own.

Christin Shinaberry and Michelle Holstine try their best to mop the girls' lockerroom after a pipe busts, sending water everywhere including the human body, drugs and alcohol abuse and addiction, sexual abstinence, and healthy eating habits. Health is taught by Mr. Knisely.

Mr. Knisely also teaches weight conditioning. In this class, students lift weights and use other body-strengthening methods.

Mr. Knisely takes a seat to plan the next Health lesson.

Ashli Cutlip, Scarlett Matheny, Mindy Sharp, and Britney Barlow practice their routine for dance

Rebekah Friel stretches before she runs a lap around the gym.

Jesse Bardette and Justin Madron sit quietly in Mr Knisely's room

Kenny Robinson sits on the bleachers to rest after playing basketball.

Senior Aaron Tumlin is working out harder than ever

Senior John Feides is getting ready for a workout

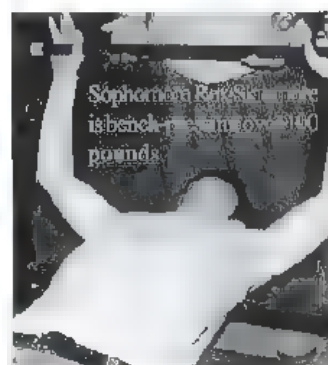

Sophomore Jonathan Bennett is working on his curls in weightlifting class.

Sophomore ReShawna is bench pressing over 200 pounds

Welding & Building Construction

Senior Jeremy Moore heads for the welding shop.

Senior Dustin White makes sparks fly in welding class.

Welding and Building Construction are always very popular classes at P.C.H.S. For the most part, students take these classes for enjoyment but some for their majors. Mr. Irvine teaches Welding, and Mr. Gibson Building Construction. Welding consists of courses in Intro, Welding Arc, Thermal, and Shield Metal Arc. In Intro, students learn the basics of welding, safety, and how to run the torch. Welding arc covers the advancing of welding skills. Thermal welding introduces the steps of doing projects and test plates. In Shield Metal Arc, students work to become certified.

Building Construction consists of classes in Fundamentals, Foundation and Framing, Finishing Carpentry, Plumbing, and Advanced Building Preparation. Fundamentals of Building Construction consists of building trades, shop, job equipment operation, safety, blueprint readings, working with various tools, and the basics of building. Foundations and Framing is Building Construction I. This class continues safety, using tools, reading blueprints, building site preparation, and foundation layouts. Finishing Carpentry is Building Construction II. This class consists of hands-on experience with the interior and exterior of buildings. The building classes work on the house construction.

Mr. Irvine's class discusses their projects for the day.

Mr. Gibson gives one of his building students instructions.

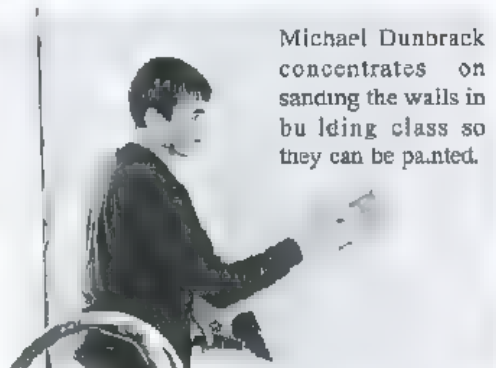

Josh Lambert works on painting the house in Building Construction.

Casey Currence sands the ceiling of the shower in the construction house.

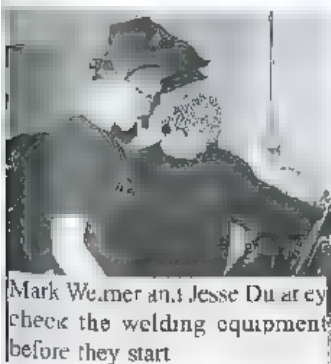

Michael Dunbrack concentrates on sanding the walls in building class so they can be painted.

Seniors Josh VanReenen and Michael Shearer work on one of the welding machines

T.J. Shafer works on sanding the ceiling of the building house.

Mark Weimer and Jesse Du ar ey check the welding equipment before they start

Shawn Feides putties the ceiling of one of the rooms in the building house.

Forestry & VoAg

While the Forestry class is at the sawmill, Dervin Lambert is cutting up boards.

Mr. Riley shows Joe Evans, Jeffrey Fertig, and Curtis Bennett how they should put their portfolios together.

Forestry and Vocational Agriculture classes are electives offered both terms at P.C.H.S., which are available for all students of any grade. Forestry is taught by Mr. Burns, and VoAg is taught by Mr. Riley.

Forest Management introduces subjects such as the study of trees, tree measures, boundary surveying, economics, and forest fire suppression. Forestry I is the introduction to forestry in which students work on forest harvesting, safety, end-loader tractors, and operating chainsaws. Forestry II and IV consist of the layout of log roads, marking and cutting timber, and scaling logs and timber. Wildlife Management teaches the identification of wildlife foods and interpreting wildlife habits.

Agriculture and Natural Resources consist of career exploration which consists of basic plants, animal science, safety, and work on the greenhouse. Ag. Mechanics I consists of instructional concepts in leadership, safety, and working with shop tools. Ag. Mechanics II provides students with more advanced skills with engines and structures. Landscape consists of plant environment, classification, plant process, growing media, plant nutrients, landscape techniques, and land maintenance. Animal Science consists of the study of meat cattle, castration of pigs, and the study of cows.

Jarrett McLaughlin shows the class the way you should not wear your welding hat.

Forestry class members work to cut up the tree after instructions from Mr. Burns.

Forestry students return their tools to the box.

Sports

The 2005-2006 year at P.C.H.S. was successful for the sports and athletes as well. When students at P.C.H.S. hear the words sports, games, and practices, most students go running to participate and show their support.

The boys' soccer team had a successful year. Their record was 10-4-3. They attended sectionals but fell one point short of a victory.

The girls' soccer team had an on-and-off season. Their record was 2-12-4.

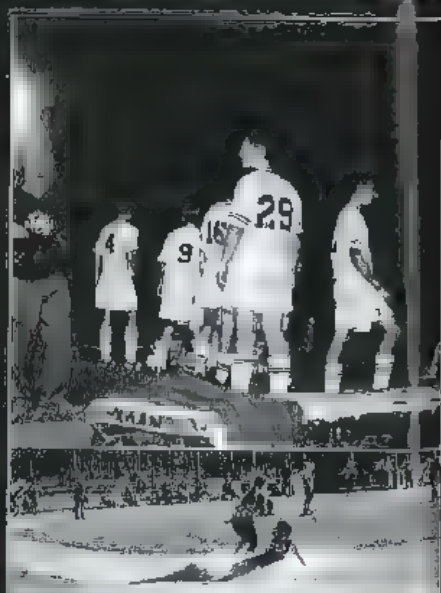

The football team had a successful season with, once again, a state playoff appearance and an 8-2 record.

The Warrior cheerleaders had one of the most successful years ever. The squad won the PVC competition and placed 4th in the regional competition.

The volleyball team also had a successful year in which they were ranked 5th in the state by the West Virginia Regional Sports Network and went to States. The JV

"I play because I love
it, and it is something I give 110%."
—Mindy Sharp

had a 3-11 record, and varsity had a 14-11 record.

The boys' basketball team had an on-and-off season. They played strong even though they did not get to make an appearance at the state tournament. The JV team had a 10-8 record, and the varsity had a 5-7 record.

The girls' basketball team had a winning season with the JV record being 10-4 and varsity having a 17-7 record. They made it to regionals but fell short of going to states.

The Lady Warriors softball team had a great season and were runners-up in regionals, ending with a record of 10-10.

The track team overall had a great season, sending many to States yet again.

The Warrior baseball team had a win some-lose some season, but overall they were pleased with their record of 8-11.

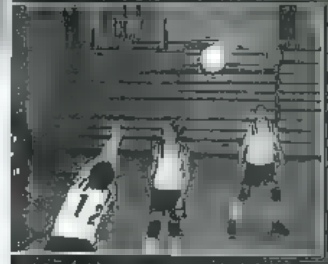

All-in-all, the sports teams had a great year and look forward to many more.

The 2005-2006 football season began with intensity at the beginning of August. The first game took place on August 26, at home against Tucker Co., where the Warriors suffered a devastating loss. This proved to be one of only two losses on the regular season. The other was a heart-breaking 3-point overtime loss to rival Tygarts Valley. The Warriors made their second consecutive trip to the state playoffs, losing by only two points to Parkersburg Catholic in a gallant effort at Parkersburg High School.

Coach Knisely was very pleased with the Warriors' successful season, along with the improvements the team had made.

Jesse Burdette had an outstanding season with 1760 rushing yards and 96 points, and was named the captain of the all-state second team for offense. Curtis Dunbrack passed for over 1100 yards on the season, and received all-state honorable mention as quarterback. Mark Burdette had a total of 41 catches for 505 receiving yards and was named to the second team all-state for defense.

After summer weeks of conditioning, the Lady Warriors volleyball team was already setting goals for states, with their new coach, Chad Baldwin. The season was great and exciting with the girls putting up hard fights against their competitors, winning most of their matches. As the season started coming to an end, the Lady Warriors stepped up for the sectional game, conquering Meadow Bridge but falling short to #3 Greenbrier West. Mindy Sharp, Kelli Hickson, Christin Shinaberry, Amy Coleman, and Nebraska Beverage were chosen as All-Tournament Team. The Warriors were eligible to advance to regionals, where they successfully won the regional Championship, against still #3 Greenbrier West, for the first time in P.C.H.S. history. This took them to states for the second year in a row, but unfortunately they lost to sixth

Once again cheerleading began at the beginning of August with practices every day. The cheerleading squad consisted of two seniors, three juniors, and three sophomores. With this experienced squad, they did not have to work as much on sidelines for football games, and they were able to focus on their competition routine. They traveled with the football team to all away games except one. This cheerleading season was one of the best because they managed to be PVC champs for the first time, beating rivals Tygarts Valley and Pendleton County. The football cheerleading season ended, and several new faces began basketball cheerleading season. This new squad consisted of one freshman, six sophomores, and two juniors. The girls worked hard at learning and teaching new sidelines to one another. Then came the day when the football squad was reunited to make one last performance on February 18, 2006, for the PVC Night of Champions basketball game. They enjoyed their final performance together, as the underclassmen looked forward to next year.

The golf team swung into action as the 2005-2006 school year kicked off. The team practiced many days at the Raven and the Pocahontas Country Club. The golf team had eight players to work with.

With matches coming up, they were getting excited to play. The first match was at the Raven, where they finished first. With the first match under their belts, they were ready for the rest. When nine matches were behind them, they were ready for place finishes to go on. With regionals. They had many first-regionals approaching, they had many long practices so that they knew they would be ready for anything that came their way. At regionals they played many good teams, but they were able to block that out and do their best. They finished first at regionals, and were now looking forward to going to Wheeling for states. The golf team went with high hopes. They had two big days ahead of them. They finished fourth overall in single A, the top public school team. Dustin Cutlip placed fifth in his final state tournament appearance.

The 2005 Warrior soccer season was a successful one. All of the Warrior players contributed to the success of the team, and in the end they came out with a winning 10-4 season with 3 ties. The Warriors played Phillip Barbour in sectionals and were defeated by 1 point, 2-1. Four people earned the outstanding honor of being named to the All-State team. David Rebinski was named first team, and Tim Ben Rittenhouse, and Chris Caplinger received honorable mention. Coalfield Conference Lacasse and Grant Dale first team, and Tim Glawion and David Rebinski second team. The guys had a wonderful season overall and played very hard all season long.

The returners are looking forward to next year!

The girls' basketball team strived for the state tournaments once again, after falling short last year. The girls started the season with an exciting win against #6, Tucker County. The Warriors moved on to the Pit Row Classic where they played AA #2 Clay County. After putting up an excellent fight, the Warriors lost, placing fourth in the Classic. The Warriors continued on, participating in the Christmas Tournament against triple-A Jefferson and double-A Ripley. The Lady Warriors came out strong with a win to Jefferson, but suffered a loss to Ripley. During the championship game, the Warriors played East Hardy, falling short once again. Receiving all PVC were senior Mindy Sharp and junior Christin Shraberry. Finishing the season, the Warriors continued on to Sectionals where they played Greenbrier West and Midland Trail, successfully conquering both to move onto Regionals. They fought hard against Charleston Catholic but unfortunately lost. The girls had a hard-fought season with a 17-7 record.

The Boys' Basketball team came out strong this year, with high hopes of making an appearance at the State Tournament. They were led by head coach Bob Sheets and five dominating seniors, Curtis Dunbrack, Clay Baxter, Grant Dale, Dustin Cutlip, and Adam Withers. The Junior Varsity team was coached by Mike DiPasquale and Phillip Anderson. The JV team ended the season with a record of ten wins and eight losses.

The varsity team was invited to the Alleghany Mountain Radio Holiday Tournament in Bath County, where they were awarded the first place trophy. The boys spent a Saturday playing in the Potomac Valley Conference Night of Champions, and placed fifth overall in the conference.

The boys ended the season strong, but came up short with a loss to Midland Trail in the sectional game. Although the boys didn't advance past sectionals, they had a good season, with a record of 15 wins and 7 losses.

The girls' softball team had many new players join the team, along with many returning players. The softball team has come a long way since just starting last year. This year Eugene Simmons stepped down as head coach, and Jerry Ramos stepped up. John Ford kept his position as Asst. Coach. In addition to practicing very hard, the girls were also instructed to run at least one mile a day. All of the girls worked very hard during the season, and many games were won. The girls' biggest struggle was their loss to Moorefield. The girls learned the most important aspect of any sport they will ever play is teamwork. They won some and lost some this year, with their second varsity season ending with a record of 8 and 8. The girls also won two and lost two in sectionals.

Even though the girls will be losing four great senior softball players, they will still have the great memories they shared together. The coaches both said that they love the idea of a girls' softball team and that they believe ours will go far.

Coach Jerry Ramos and Asst. Coach John Ford are pleased with the girls' performance.

The 2006 baseball team started out the season victorious with a win over Highland, with a score of 5-3. This proved that the hard work and hours spent practicing were worth it. Second year coach, Mr. Sherman Taylor pushed the boys hard from the very beginning. Helping Mr. Taylor were seniors Curtis Dunbrack, Adam Withers and John Feldes, each of whom participated in the baseball program throughout high school.

Coming off a good season from 2005, the Warriors had high hopes for another great year. They had to deal with rough weather and many cancelled games, but once the team started the season, it was quick and successful. They ended the season winning 8 games and losing 11.

All in all, it was a very good season. The sectional games were very close. The Warriors beat the Harman Panthers twice but took two very close losses to the Tygart's Valley Bulldogs, being knocked out of sectional play. The season was over, but Coach Taylor is very excited and preparing for next year.

Track team members worked hard toward their goal of making it to the state track meet. They started their practices weeks ahead of the first meet, conditioning and perfecting their individual techniques under coaches Barb and Wiley. They prepared for their events by running everything from 20-meter dashes to five-mile long runs, which paid off in the end. As the meets began, each athlete strived for excellence in his or her events, gaining points for the team. Their efforts paid off, with the Warriors dominating at most of the track meets, traveling to Oak Hill, Summers Co. twice, and hosting two meets. The boys placed first at PVCs, and the girls placed fifth.

The boys achieved third place at the regional meet, and the girls placed sixth. The boys placed 9th overall at the state meet, with the girls placing 19th.

Coaches Barb and Wiley are pleased with the track team's success.

Banquets and Awards

Recognition within one's school can be received for a variety of academic, athletic, and extracurricular endeavors. Each year P.C.H.S. students work very hard to achieve that which is instilled in their own determinations. To celebrate these accomplishments, many banquets and award ceremonies are conducted. These include: the National Honor Society Achievement Banquet, Awards Day, Athletic Banquet, and the FFA Banquet/Picnic. At each of these events, students are recognized upon receiving special honors and/or making significant achievements in academic, sport, or club endeavors.

Students can feel good about accomplishing their goals as well as preparing themselves for college and the workforce. Through preparation, we as a school can strive to make our community a better place.

At the FFA picnic, USDA Inspector Mr. Walker receives an award from FFA President Kelsey Beverage for the contribution he made to the new meat facility.

At the Achievement Banquet, Tiffany Hudson announces the students to come to the front to be recognized for their accomplishments.

Seniors Misty Vandevender, Mindy Sharp, and Brandy Sharp receive their certificates at the achievement banquet.

Dustin Cutlip was awarded the "Mathlete of the Year Award," in memory of Mr. June Riley

Sophomore Jarrett McLaughlin smiles as he is awarded a plaque while in attendance at the FFA picnic

The above seniors were all recipients of the West Virginia Promise Scholarship.

Brandy Sharp also received the Arch Wooddell Sportsmanship award at the athletic banquet.

Class of 2006

Graduation marks the end of high school and the beginning of a new chapter within one's life. At Pocahontas County High School, seniors worked very hard to achieve the requirements for graduation. Whether it was picking up those last-minute classes or finishing the senior mentorship, they always had something to keep them hopping.

New doors begin to open as students leave P.C.H.S. With a high school diploma, a senior can look forward to entering the workforce or moving onto higher education. Preparation is a huge part of the senior year.

During the graduation ceremony, the invocation was given by Justin Madron, while the welcoming was done by Renae Burks and Rurik Tywoniw. Afterward, Karis Carpenter and Laura Brandt read a poem. The reflections were completed by Emily Egan, Hallie Herold, Johanna Hill, and Tiffany Hudson. Daniel Lacasse and Dustin Cutlip did the Student Address, and the Appreciation Address was read by Dustin Lambert. Finally, Tim Glawion presented the class of 2006.

Sarah Wilkins, Amy Coleman, and Kate Ford had the highest GPA's of the junior class and were the Junior Marshals for Graduation.

The salutatorian, Dustin Lambert, stands proudly while the camera captures this pose of a lifetime.

Daniel Lacasse and Dustin Cutlip represent the senior class as the 2006 valedictorians.

Row 1: Valeric Pritt, Felicia Pennington, Ashli Cutlip, Tabitha May, Ashley Holland, Britney Barlow, Crystal Wilfong, Brenda Long, April Rose. Row 2: James Calhoun, Christine Tuttle, Casey Grogg, Heather Rhea, Tiffany Hudson, Katie Moore, Laura Brandt, Ben Moore, Kristine Wilfong, Renae Anderson, Sami Janz. Row 3: Kristen Nicholas, Scarlett Matheny, Ricky Barkley, John Feldes, Halie Herold, Renae Burks, Timothy Eary, Jeremy Moore, Kelsey Smith, Monica Moran, Elizabeth Scott, Chance Walther. Row 4: Kelli Hickson, Daniel Lacasse, Christopher Woods, Wesley Landis, Josh VanReenen, Chad Ryder, Luke Gurn, Luke Walkup, David Eary, Michael Cromer, Karis Carpenter. Row 5: Ashley Wooddell, Johanna Hill, Misty Vandevender, Jennifer Morrison, Katie Gurn, Micheal Ferrell, James Williams, Jeremiah Alderman, David Moore, Rurik Iywonu, Joseph Gooding. Row 6: Brandy Sharp, Natasha Halterman, Dustin Lambert, Dana Buzzard, Andrew Kinnison, David Cassell, Rodney Mallow, Joshua Lambert, Emily Egan, Zachary Morrison, Tim Clawson. Row 7: Damon Brock, David Rebinski, Billy Owens, Clay Baxter, David Weldon, Aaron Tumbin, Mark Burdette, Dustin Cutlip, Justin Madron, Grant Dale, JoAutumn Hill. Row 8: Mark Weimer, Jonathon Wilson, Adam Withers, Jacob Bennett, Curtis Dunbrack, Michael Shearer, Mindy Sharp, T.J. Shafer, Joshua Rexrode, Cory Bryant, Dustin White, Brian Mason.

THE BIG DAY...

Jonathon Wilson smiles because he knows how close he is to graduating.

FOR THE CLASS OF 2006!

Renae Burks and Rurik Tywonw deliver their speeches

Jeremiah Friel and Andrew Kinnison can't wait to see what the future holds for them.

Mr. Sanders, covered in stickers, takes one more glance at the class of 2006!

Michael Calhoun and Colin Butler are lined up to get their diplomas

The graduating class let their caps fly after they are announced as graduates.

Timmy and David Eary walk side by side through the door one last time.

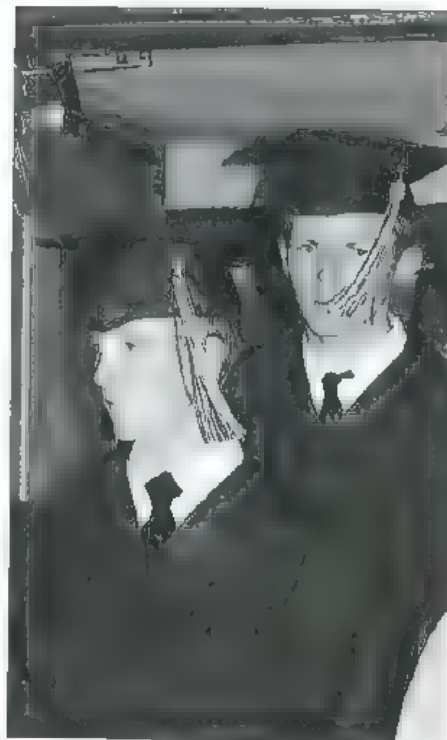

David and Ben Moore try to stay entertained through the various speeches Brian Mason rushes across the stage to shake hands with Mr. Sanders.

Heather Rhea and Chad Ryder look at all the people in the crowd.

Mae Anderson smiles big; she knows this is the next phase of her life.

Jacob Bennett and Clay Baxter thought this day would never come.

Timmy Queen and Josh Rexrode prepare for the big moment, when they get to walk across the stage.

Closing

The 2005-2006 school year brought about challenges for not only the students but the excellent staff as well. From planning a nutritious meal to putting together an educational lesson plan, all united together and made it through another busy year. The students worked hard to achieve their goals in clubs, competitions, sporting events, and striving for an excellent GPA.

They were also occupied with participating in assemblies, activities, and traveling to colleges and outside activities. Seniors anxiously awaited their final moments at P.C.H.S. as they struggled to finish mentorships, college applications, and finalize their senior wills to leave behind shared memories to their friends.

Cook Becky Evans fixes her glasses before continuing to wash dishes.

Matt Hoke shows off his complexion of perfection during Language Arts class.

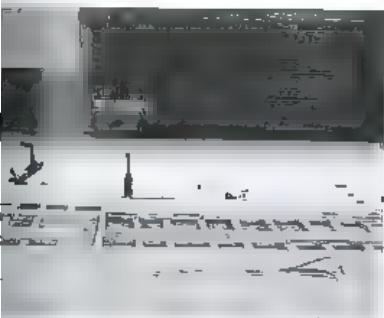

Mr. Irvine and Heather Rhea have a very special teacher-student relationship.

GYMNASIUM RENOVATION:

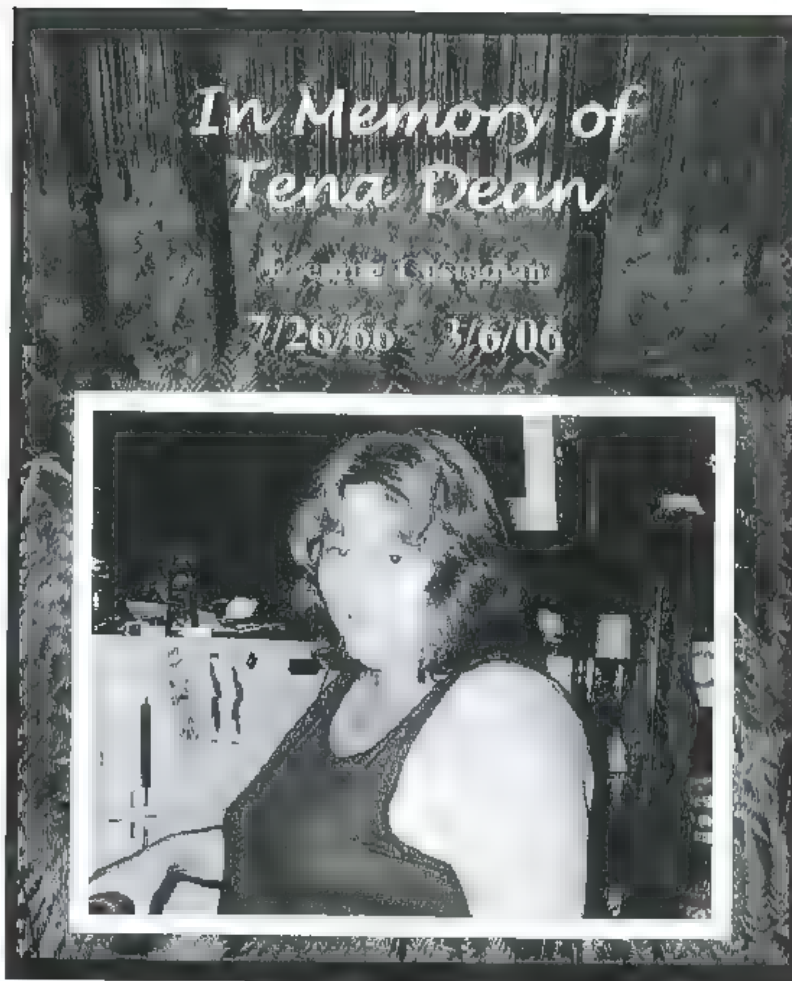

Before...

During...

And After!!

The installed bleachers stand out beautifully with the gold P.C.H.S. Although a bother, everyone agreed that the inconvenience was well worth it!

We sometimes wish you were still small,
Not yet so big, so strong and tall.
For when we think of yester day,
We close our eyes and see you play.
We often miss that little boy,
Who pestered us to buy a toy.
Who filled our days with pure delight,
From early morning till late at night.

As we have watched you change
and grow,
As seasons come then quickly go.
We have faith that God has a perfect plan,
To shape this boy into a man.
Today, my son, we're proud of you,
For the thoughtful thing you say
and do.
We'll love you till our days are done,
And we are so grateful you are our son.

An investment with big rewards.

Your education has required quite an investment over the years. Hours of studying, hundreds of classes - it all adds up! Your dedication will soon pay off with big rewards as you approach your graduation day. At Pendleton Community Bank, we are proud of your achievements and encourage you to keep up all of the great work as you work toward your goal.

You can always count on your community bank to support you and be here to help you with all of your financial needs!

EDITOR'S NOTE...

I would like to thank the 2006 yearbook staff members and Mrs. Rhea for all the hard work and dedication put into the 2006 yearbook.

The year started off slowly with all the training and learning that had to be done, but by September we were well on our way to making a spectacular book.

We found out that Ms. Pam Poling, our Herff Jones Representative for many years, would not be assisting us this year.

At first I was worried, but things fell into place and Pam was replaced by Mrs. Beth Slusser. After the first day spent with Beth, I knew we would be all right.

This is my last year in the yearbook class, but I have to say it was the best, working with friends and even gaining a few new ones. Yearbook has taught me a lot and has been my favorite class all through High School. I will miss all the people and putting effort into something that people will enjoy.
